Gwich'in Territorial Park Hiking Trails

Inukshuk created a trail planning and construction framework to guide trail development in Gwich'in Territorial Park. The project involved consideration of existing site, trail routing to avoid falcon nest disturbance, visitor market analysis and recreation trends as well as capital costs for various trail segments. Suggestions for interpretive signage and way finding, a Gwich'in Territorial Park plant report and a trail maintenance manual were also provided. Trail construction was started in 2013.

Tombstone Territorial Park Beaver Pond Interpretive Program and Trail

In partnership with Midnight Arts, Inukshuk developed an interpretive trail linking the new interpretive centre to a local beaver pond. Recognizing the visitor gateway and front country experience of this trail the approach was based on the principle of "less is more" in a wilderness context. The trail is universally accessible.

Gwich'in Territorial Park Campground Improvements

Inukshuk – in collaboration with JB Firth Enterprises/ Challenger Geomatics – reviewed the existing campground layout and identified opportunities for additional campsites including sites suitable for RVs. The work undertaken included a site survey, concept development and construction drawings. The project was implemented the same year using local resources.
